

ennVee Company Fact Sheet

Delivering Tomorrow's Solutions Today

ennVee is a global professional services firm that provides Oracle application management, business, and technology consulting services to help our customers accelerate project completion, reduce disruption, get it right the first time, and lower the cost to deliver tomorrow's solutions today. Since 2003, our global team of technology black belts has grown to over 200 full-time employees. ennVee's world headquarters is located in Naperville, Illinois (outside of Chicago), and has four offshore development centers.

Automation-Focused

Over the last five years we have developed an array of automation tools, "accelerators", that we apply to our process and projects. As a result, we can accelerate solution delivery, shorten project timelines, get it right the first time, and reduce total cost without compromising quality.

- Automation - cost-effective, less-disruptive
- Customer-centric - we share the risk
- Leveraging economies of scale
- Risk sharing and rewards to ensure delivery excellence.
- Reap the most rewards at minimal risk.
- Accelerated time-to-delivery by leveraging a global pool of technology black belts, best practices, methodologies, and automation tools.
- Accelerated time-to-solution and rapid achievement of profit objectives.

Company Leadership

- Built and lead by former "Big 4" executives with an average of 25+ years of consulting industry experience with Whittman-Hart, marchFIRST, and Oracle.

Global Team

- Robust consulting teams with global delivery capability.
- A simplified, architecturally correct model that accelerates customer transformation and enduring value creation over time.
